CHINA AND JAPAN AGREE ON RETURN OF SHANTUNG; CHINA PAYS 56 MILLION YEN

PEKING.—By the Associated Press.—China and Japan Tuesday night completed settlement of the Shantung controversy as outlined by the terms of the Washington treaty.

China agrees to pay Japan forty million yen for the Shantung railroad. The payment will be made in fifteen-year Chinese treasury notes bearing interest at six per cent. In addition China pays Japan sixteen million yen for all public properties located in the Kiaochow district.

Civil and military administration will be turned over to China on December 10, while the Shantung railway will be transferred to Chinese authority on January 1.

China, as a direct result of the Washington conference, thus regains control of territory which she lost when it was seized by Germany in 1918.

VIROQUA MEN IN AUTO WRECK ON M. C. ROAD HERE

Tillman Nundahl and Tom Tol-lefson Crash Over Culvert in Ford

NUND AHL FINED $52.50
TOLLEFSON SLIGHTLY HURT

Were Enroute Home When Accident Occurs Last Night

TWO Viroqua men, Tillman Nundahl and Tom Tollefson, spent Tuesday night at Central police station and the former Wednesday morning was fined $52.50 on a charge of driving his Ford automobile while under the influence of liquor. Tollefson sustained a rash in his face, resulting from his tumble through the windshield when the car crashed over a culvert while they were enroute home at 8:30 Tuesday night.

Nundahl Owned Car

Nundahl told police he was the owner and driver of the car at the time of the accident. He is a cousin of Martin Nundahl, who accompanied Thor Scholten in the "death" car which ran down and killed the Hoffmans a year ago December 10, he said.

Both men were being held at police headquarters Wednesday morning. Nundahl because he lacked sufficient funds to pay his fine, and Tollefson to receive further attention of physicians, police said.

Asked Tuesday night where he had purchased the liquor, Nundahl told the police that he bought it at Louis Olson's place, but Wednesday morning said he had gotten it "on the south-west corner of Third and Pearl streets." He signed a statement to this effect at the police station.

Tollefson to Hospital

The report of the accident came to central station at 8:30. After the crash Nundahl was returning to a hospital with Tollefson when the car broke down near Munzenberger's saloon, police said. Tollefson finished the trip via street car and although he had intended to go to the Lutheran hospital, wound up at the St. Francis, where police found him later. He was taken to central station where he refused any information on the accident.

Tollefson was thrown through the windshield, but Nundahl escaped without injury. Police took charge of the car and brought Nundahl to the station.

NO REASON GIVEN FOR RESIGNATION OF REEDSBURG MAN

State Political Circles Much Interested in Speculation
as to Successor

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—James A. Stone, prohibition director of Wisconsin, has resigned to take effect immediately, and Clark M. Perry, who has been acting as assistant to Mr. Stone, has been appointed to fill the post of director, temporarily at least, according to announcement at the federal building today. Official announcement in connection with the change is expected from Washington momentarily.

No reason has been announced for Mr. Stone's resignation.

Rumors of Mr. Stone's retirement have been afloat on several occasions previously, and in each case have given rise to much speculation as to whom might be chosen his successor. The canvassing of the situation is again with renewed vigor since his resignation is made public, and a large field of possibilities has been mentioned. The office is regarded as one of the best federal plum in the state.

Mr. Stone has been a prominent figure in Wisconsin politics for many years. During Senator R. M. La Follette's first term as governor, he was assistant secretary of state under Walter L. Houser.

He was one of the senior senators' political lieutenants for several years and served twice as national committeeman, going to national conventions as a La Follette delegate. His break with Mr. La Follette occurred during the war when he disagreed with the senator's stand on the conflict.

Mr. Stone made his home at Reedsburg for many years before he was appointed prohibition director.

Clark M. Perry, assistant director, was appointed to fill the vacancy temporarily.

HINT HER HUSBAND AIDED ESCAPE OF HAMMER MURDERESS

Phillips in Custody While Sheriff Checks up His Alibi

DOUBT IS CAST ON HIS STORY OF WHEREABOUTS

Establish that Several Aided
Her to Escape

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—The search for Mrs. Clara Phillips, convicted of beating Mrs. Alberta Meadows to death with a hammer, and who escaped early Tuesday from the Los Angeles county jail, was in active progress today throughout southern California and Lower California.

Armour L. Phillips, the convicted woman's husband, upon whose story of his movements the twenty-four hours preceding his wife's escape, "some doubt" had been cast, according to sheriff's deputies, was still in technical custody.

After police had hunted for him for some hours, Phillips appeared at the office of her attorney and sent word to the sheriff's office he was ready to be interviewed about the escape.

Phillips later made a statement in which he said he knew nothing about the escape or where his wife had gone. He gave a detailed account of his movements for the last twenty-four hours.

Aided in Her Escape

Investigation at the jail indicated at least three persons had aided the woman. Her quarters were on the third floor of the old jail building and she occupied a tank cell overlooking a roof of an auxiliary structure, a story lower. Footprints and other marks on the roof led the deputies who investigated that angle of the escape to announce their belief that at least two persons aided her on the roof and that one or two more awaited them in an automobile at the street level.

The Los Angeles county jail stands in the main business section of the city. It is within a block of the federal building, where postal activities are continuous. Street cars pass along one side, even in the quiet hours of the night, taxicabs and automobiles ply the street. There are always jailers and matrons on duty, and a glare of street lamps surrounds it.

Look for Possible Aids

The sheriff announced that a number of persons who were connected with the trial of Mrs. Phillips would be sought to throw what light they could on the escape, and Harry Karst, a defense witness, was the first to appear at the sheriff's office.

Karst told the officers that at Armour Phillips' request, he had picked the latter up yesterday at the home of Mrs. Phillips' sisters and had brought him downtown and left him at a garage. He said he had not seen Phillips since.

Investigation also showed that Phillips was the owner of an automobile of the coupe type and that he recently had it completely overhauled mechanically and painted. Search was being made for this car. It did not carry the license number which was assigned by investigators to the car that was believed to have awaited Mrs. Phillips at the moment of escape.

BOOTLEGGERS BOOM COUNTERFEITING TO GYRUM RUNNERS

WASHINGTON.—The bootleg liquor business has brought about a big increase in counterfeiting, much of which is the work of amateurs, W. H. Moran, chief of the secret service, told the house appropriations committee at hearings made public Wednesday.

"We are just now greatly troubled with some counterfeit bills of fair workmanship, in the eastern half of the country," said Mr. Moran, "much of which is being used in the purchase of bootleg whisky. On the Canadian border the counterfeit is defrauding the people on the other side in the purchase of whisky which he seeks to bring across."

G. O. P. Rural Credits Bills Go To Congress

WASHINGTON.—Rural credits legislation said to have the approval of administration officials and proposing to create a farm credits department as a part of the present farm loan system was introduced simultaneously in the senate and house Wednesday by Senator Leno, republican, Wisconsin, and Representative Anderson, republican, Minnesota.

The two bills, similar in most particulars, make available for farm loans a total of $60,000,000 distributed equally among the 12 farm loan banks. The present government subscription to the twelve banks totals only $12,000,000. The banks would be authorized to rediscount farm paper having a maturity of from six months to three years.

BOB GETS SENATE TO START PROBE OF PACKERS' MERGER

Attacks Armour-Morris Deal and Efforts to Secure
"Indulgences"

BARGAIN IN ADVANCE
FOR IMMUNITY, CHARGE

Wisconsin Senator Denies Harding Right to Act

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The senate Wednesday adopted the resolution of Senator La Follette, republican, Wisconsin, calling upon the secretary of agriculture for full information regarding the proposed Armour and Morris packer merger, after an attack from the floor on the proposed merger by Senator La Follette, who declared that the packers were seeking immunity in advance from President Harding and government officials.

Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture, Senator La Follette declared, has no authority or right to give the approval requested by J. Ogden Armour for his purchase of the Morris interests.

No Indulgence for Sale

"It has not yet reached the point in this country," he said, "where any law has been passed which authorizes the president to sell indulgence to law-breakers. If he grants such indulgence he must do it without the sanction of law."

If the president should give the opinion to these packers that their proposed merger was lawful, said the Wisconsin senator, such an executive action would be tantamount to promising that the courts would take no proceeding or to interfere against it. "As well, sir, might these gentlemen seek to extort from the court a promise that they would not be prosecuted for their violation of the law," he said.

Refers to Steel Case

Senator La Follette recalled that a recently proposed steel merger was abandoned when the federal trade commission filed a complaint that the combine would result in unfair competition and added: "Unfortunately, as I believe, the federal trade commission has been deprived of all power by the packers and stock yards not to interfere to prevent the present merger, unless secretary of agriculture calls upon the commission to make an investigation and report."

"One of the most dangerous and wicked practices which has grown up largely in our day is that by which great corporations go either to the president or the heads of departments and make a bargain in advance for immunity for crimes they are about to commit."

Why Bargain, if Lawful?

"If this merger is lawful, there is not the slightest reason or excuse for bargaining or attempting to bargain with the officials about it in advance. If it is plainly unlawful, then the attempt to secure official sanction for it is nothing less than asking to have the officials agree to compound a crime."

Senator La Follette said he believed the proposed merger to be "contrary to the law and public policy." He added that the past history of the larger packers was one of "shameful defiance" of the law.

"Let Armour swallow up Morris as this merger proposes, and of course your competition is gone," he said. "This proposed merger simply seeks to carry one step further the scheme of creating greater and ever greater monopoly in the packing industry."

FIFTEEN STABLES AT FAIR GROUNDS RAZED BY FLAMES

Flames Have Good Headway
When Alarm is Turned in at 12:30 this Morning

DAMAGE TO BUILDINGS AND
PROPERTY PLACED AT $2,500

Fire Causes $50 Damage at Eagle Hotel Later

FIFTEEN horse stables and racing paraphernalia owned by Harry Palmer and Robert Kane valued at $2500, was destroyed by fire, the cause of which was unknown, early Wednesday morning. Total loss and damage to the stables was placed at $1500, while the value of the sulkeys, harnesses and other equipment privately owned was estimated at $1000.

The buildings destroyed by the flames were located at the northwest corner of the fair grounds. They were the stables used by the Fair association in housing race horses during the fair.

The alarm was turned in by a resident living in that section of the city at 12:30. Fire officials said that the flames had gained a good start when the equipment arrived, much of the damage having already been done.

A few minutes before Central station equipment came in from the fair grounds, an alarm was sent in from the Eagle hotel on Fifth street, between Main and Jay streets. Both north side stations were on deck. It was estimated that damage of $50 was caused by the fire which spread from a waste paper basket to clothing hanging on the wall above. Fire officials explained that a lighted cigarette had evidently been thrown down and started burning in the basket. Most of the clothing was destroyed and a hole burned in the ceiling.

HARDING OPPOSES CONGRESS CONTROL OF SHIP SUBSIDY

Letter Read to Committee Starts
Hot Debate on Madden
Amendment

WASHINGTON.—Elimination of the Madden amendment to the shipping bill, giving congress control over the extension of government aid to shipping companies was urged by President Harding in a letter written to Chairman Jones of the senate commerce committee, and read to the committee Wednesday when it took up the measure.

The president's letter developed extended discussion in the executive session of committee and so little progress was made that some members declared it probable that the shipping bill which is the first item on the regular legislative program for the regular session, would not be placed before the senate till next week.

The Madden amendment to which the president entered a strong objection, provided specifically that extension of government aid to shipping companies shall be made only upon a specific annual authorization from congress. Chairman Jones and other leading supporters of the bill were understood to have argued for the amendment's elimination. Senator McNary, republican, Oregon, led the discussion in behalf of its retention.

HISTORIC SESSION IN BUCKINGHAM PALACE

King Proclaims New Government With Healy as First Governor

DUBLIN.—By The Associated Press.—Ireland took her place Wednesday among the world's commonwealths. The provisional government and parliament ceased to function, their place being taken by the permanent parliament and cabinet of the Irish Free State and the new commonwealth being formally proclaimed as an established government.

The provisional regime which ceased to exist today had such full powers that the new one now inaugurated marks but little change except in name.

The president's nomination of 30 senators was a part of the day's business. The lower house elects the remaining thirty. For these senatorships there were more than 80 candidates. When the senate is constituted, later in the week, both houses will be addressed by Governor General Healy in the King's bench which will be composed, according to constitutional practice, by the Irish parliament.

Governor General Healy was sworn in at his residence Wednesday forenoon by the lord chief justice.

The ceremony was a simple one attracting no gathering of the public. Up to the early afternoon, in fact, no demonstration whatever had occurred in Dublin in connection with the inauguration of the new government.

HOTEL PROPRIETOR GIVEN FINE OF HUNDRED DOLLARS

WINONA, Minn.—Julius Rothering, 43 years old, proprietor of the Frederick hotel bar, 265 East Third street, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or serve 30 days in the county jail following his conviction today in municipal court on a charge of committing a nuisance by selling and keeping for sale intoxicating liquor.

Judge J. J. Fitzpatrick, in announcing his decision, declared: "I don't think there ever was a man testifying in this court who by his demeanor, actions and words indicated so plainly that he was deliberately lying under oath as this defendant."

Officers Describe Raid

Police Officers Albert Winkler and Julius Brook, who made the raid on November 13, testified that Rothering seized a pitcher, believed to contain moonshine liquor, and plunged it into a tank of rinsing water behind the bar as they entered the place. Officer Winkler testified that he leaped over the bar and rescued the pitcher before its contents had entirely mingled with the water in the tank. A sample of the liquid in the pitcher was taken, the officers testified.

Analysis of this sample revealed that it contained 10 1/2 per cent of alcohol by weight and 14 by volume, according to testimony offered by P. C. Myers, chemist.

Denies Officers' Story
Rothering, on the witness stand, denied that he had plunged the pitcher into the tank when the officers entered, denied that there had been liquor in the place, and asserted that the pitcher had been lying in the tank, perhaps for several hours. The pitcher, he said, was used to rinse glasses.

Judge Fitzpatrick, in finding Rothering guilty, announced that he did so in the belief that Rothering's testimony was false.

Rothering is scheduled for a hearing tomorrow on a charge of possessing liquor for sale as a result of his arrest Saturday night.

A bottle of liquor which police testified was found in an automobile at the rear of the hotel was rejected by the court as evidence on the ground that the prosecution had failed to establish any connection between Rothering and the bottle or car.

ELEVEN YEAR OLD ADMITS THAT HE DERAILED TRAIN

D. Kelsey, division superintendent, from special agents who have been investigating the wreck.

When the conductor examined the switch after the wreck he found the lever unlocked and out of the socket. Mr. Kelsey said. The wreck occurred thirty minutes after a passenger train had passed.

Bad Advertising

It has been noted that Governor Blaine has been giving Wisconsin some excellent advertising in a swing around the circle of sister states to whose people he detailed the merits of Wisconsin products and the processes by which they have been developed. Perhaps the absence of the governor, however, has given the state some advertising which the governor will regret.

Recently we found occasion to comment upon Lieutenant Governor Comings' political Thanksgiving proclamation, which contained more deprecation than praise, and a freedom of biblical quotation in which, no doubt, Governor Blaine would not have indulged.

More recently the lieutenant governor gave public expression to the notion that the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin had been at best a negligible factor in rural welfare, the intimation, we take it, having been that in its avoidance of partisan politics it had lost its greatest opportunity. Upon this point we find in the Daily Cardinal the language of Governor Blaine of date October 12, 1922:

Under the leadership of large visioned men, our college of agriculture, the dairy organizations and dairy cattle men, Wisconsin was able to carry out one of the most significant revolutions known in the history of agriculture.

This connotes an important thing going on within the progressive ranks. It is a struggle for supremacy between the extreme radicals and a group made up mostly of what might be termed constitutional progressives. Prior to the last campaign the former were veering to Lieutenant Governor Comings as a possible candidate for governor. Perhaps the division can again be outlined as, broadly, resting between those who seek a new party and those who seek a balance of power within the present party organizations. One who knows Mr. Comings will realize his honesty and a certain religious flavor that tinges his character. He possesses a style of oratory that appeals to those in whom class instinct is strong. He would not, however, be at home in the councils of "men of affairs and experts," nor is it probable that his advice would lead to measures adopted "on thorough investigation and research, so that the progressive movement shall suffer no setbacks."

The College of Agriculture will not suffer by what Mr. Comings has said. The state's estimate of it rests firmly upon the substantial basis of public service which Governor Blaine has claimed for it. It is probable that were figures resorted to it could be shown mathematically that Wisconsin's investment in the College of Agriculture has paid the greatest material dividends of any it ever made.

Fruits of the Conference

CHINA has received back Kinohow and Shantung, given from her in 1898 by the Germans as indemnity for the death of a missionary, snatched from the Germans by the Japanese during the world war, and finally turned back to the original owners by the Washington conference. The Chinese have made an agreement with Japan to purchase the Shantung railroad for forty million yen and to buy the public buildings for sixteen million more. It looks like a very good bargain for Japan, since the railroad and the buildings were built by Germany and held as prizes of war, but it is equally a good bargain for China. By it she regains control of one of the richest agricultural and mineral provinces of the land, a thriving sea-port. By it she drives out Japanese invasion from the heart of the country, in the spot where it was most threatening.

It was the Washington conference that made this possible. China had been cold-shouldered at the peace conference of Versailles in her demand for Shantung, and rudely repulsed by the Japanese when direct negotiations were attempted. Only when President Harding and Mr. Hughes were able to get the diplomatic leaders of the world together at Washington, under the watchful eye of public opinion and the white light of publicity, did China's case even get a hearing. And in this glare of the spotlight Japan dared do nothing but agree to return Shantung. She tied all manner of strings to her promise, and attempted to impose impossible terms upon China. But with the world watching most of these, after months of dickering, have been scaled down to the point where China could meet them, and Japan is finally and definitely out of Shantung.

Score this for the present administration's foreign policy. Nothing more important has been accomplished by American diplomacy for a long time, embodying as it does not only a stroke for world justice and for peace, but a powerful blow for our traditional policy of the open door in China. Note, too, in passing, that it was accomplished not by long-distance note writing, nor by individual conferences, but by frank and open discussion of the powers sitting about the same table. If this is a good method, and effective, for the relations of the United States; China and Japan, why will it not work for our relations with Europe?

Smoke-Screen

IT is in a measure difficult to see why the question whether or not foreign ships of war should be allowed to pass the Dardanelles should be of such apparently paramount importance to the conference at Lausanne. In time of peace, it would seem, ships of war are not greatly different from other ships using the straits, and might well be allowed to pass without interference whether the straits are controlled by Turkey or an international commission. In time of war it would make no difference what the rule was. Hostile ships of war would not be allowed in the straits if the holders could prevent it whether there was an agreement or not, and if the straits were closed by rule hostile fleets would attempt to force passage if it seemed strategically necessary. So dispatches posing this question as one of first importance at Lausanne must be dealing with surface matters only. It is evident that behind this question as a smoke-screen the powers and the eastern countries are jockeying for position in the struggle that really makes Lausanne important—the struggle for oil, railroad and mineral rights in the Near East. That's what all the shootin' is for.

Censored

THE people do not always agree with the lawmakers. In Massachusetts the legislature passed an act providing for censorship of movies. The people, in a referendum, voted 545,919 against censorship, and only 207,476 for a majority of 338,443 against. The vote against censorship, by the way, was greater than that cast for any candidate for any office or any ticket during the general elections held in Massachusetts at the same time.

The moving picture industry is elated at the referendum that knocked out movie censorship in Massachusetts. The wiser among the movie makers probably recognize that this referendum is a challenge to them, the people putting it squarely up to the movie magnates to provide clean films. If they neglect their obvious public duty and fail to make good on their responsibility, the reaction will come in another referendum reversing the 1922 vote.

When the people vote against un-American censorship, they are not voting for abandon—for films unfit for children and easily-swayed moral weaklings among grownups.

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY
Art Strum of La Crosse, quarterback on the high school football team, has been picked for an end position on the All-State high school eleven which was chosen by H. Meade Durbrow of Madison.
Members of the congregation of St. Joseph's Cathedral are getting to work on plans for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the dedication of the church the week beginning January fourth. The event will mark the opening of a new era in the history of the church. Archbishop Messmer and all the bishops of the state will be here to assist in the services.
Miss Ada Peters, 1209 Charles street, and Mr. Henry Wetchen of Pine Creek, Minn., were married last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Berg by Rev. Walter of the German M. E. church. The couple will live at Pine Creek.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY
Unless present plans are changed the La Crosse and Black River Electric Railway company will build elevated tracks through a part of the north side, from a point on Mill street near St. Cloud to the marsh and thence to the south side where it will connect with the La Crosse and Eastern's tracks. The elevated road is necessary because of the now apparent impossibility of crossing the Milwaukee tracks at Mill street.
Langdon & Boyd, the pork packers, have purchased Ogilby's butcher shop on the north side and are remodeling it preparatory to opening another branch market.
It is said that the Journal, a Milwaukee paper, is about to open a branch office in La Crosse.
The heavy snow which fell today is a great boon to merchants as it will insure good sleighing and therefore good trade.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY
Benjamin F. Bryant of La Crosse is among those appointed to office by Commander-in-Chief Weissert of the G. A. R. He is to be chairman of the committee on Soldiers' Homes.
The receipts for this year's Charity ball amounted to $497.
George R. Hodge who runs a meat market at 512 Pine street, has sold out his business.
Gus Freitag has sold his saloon on the corner of Eleventh and La Crosse streets to William Bushing.
George H. Allen, the well known agent of the Diamond Jo line, has purchased the old postoffice news stand from L. W. Lohmiller. He will continue as agent of the Diamond Jo route.
C. L. Stewart, at one time, a compositor on Pomeroy's Democrat, but late of Denver, has purchased a quarter interest in the La Crosse Chronicle.
J. E. Johnson, the oil man, was the first to cross John Rau's new winter bridge with a load.

Good-By! Good Luck To You!

By H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

"It's the chance of a lifetime!" said John Bates. Then, as other considerations came to mind, "in a way," he added thoughtfully.
His fellow physician, Chester Haynes, regarded him quizzically. "You mean?"
"If one had no ties at home," said the other frankly.
"That's right," agreed Chester, mentally making note of the fact that what he had feared was true. John too, was in love with Mary Hamore. A darned unfortunate mixup.

So study, therefore, such a vast scale, went on John, utterly unaware of his friend's train of thought. Well, it's a tremendous opportunity. Will you take it, Chester?
Haynes shrugged his shoulders. "Well, sleep on it," he said.
The chance had come for one of them to go abroad with a relief commission to study the white plague in eastern European regions devastated by the war and resultant famine. Both men had specialized along that line, although recently Haynes was developing a more of less general practice among the city's well-to-do and even socially prominent families. This experience abroad would mean contact with well-known continental physicians and would endow the man who undertook it with worth-while authority on his return. To be sure, it meant certain hardships and an indefinite absence from home.

That night, John felt himself pulled in two directions. His professional ambition urged him to seize the opportunity. His love for Mary prompted him to cast it aside and devote his efforts to winning her affection. Finally, as the hours wore on, he decided to leave the matter in Chester's hands. After all, as his senior, he was perhaps entitled to a first decision.

Meanwhile, the other physician wrestled with no difficulties whatever. John must be the man to go. He, Chester Haynes, sacrifices the practice he had so carefully built up and which was proving remarkably lucrative, in order to spend months in some far-forsaken spot treating foreigners. But, more to be considered than that was the fact that with John out of the way, Mary would surely succumb to his wooing. He would be sure to make it. And Dr. Haynes unquestionably had a way with women.

The two men met on their hospital rounds next morning. "Well," said John abruptly.
"Take it easy, Chester," the doctor said. "You're the one who've got the job and I yield to you." His words conveyed a sense of self-sacrifice and an earnestness with the truth. "I don't doubt your right," John said. Now that the way was clear John realized how much he had longed to see Haynes abroad. He would be sure to make it. And Dr. Haynes unquestionably had a way with women.

"Good," John hadn't let her know yet, "but," said John's good friend, "I'll take over a considerable part of his practice. He'll be in charge of the relief commission to study the white plague. As John seemed to go keen, I asked him what he thought of the idea. He said, 'I don't know, but I'll try it.'"

"How very splendid!" cried Mary, and Chester appropriated the tribute to John.
"John will go far," returned Haynes, "because he will put his life into it. He'll be in charge of the relief commission to study the white plague. As John seemed to go keen, I asked him what he thought of the idea. He said, 'I don't know, but I'll try it.'"

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This dissolves it entirely. To do this just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it. No matter how much dandruff you may have.
You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

TEACHERS' CLUB MEETS AT C. OF C. TUESDAY EVENING

Interesting Program of Talks and Music Given; Officers are Nominated

More than 100 teachers were present at the second annual meeting of the La Crosse Teachers' club held Tuesday evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. The meeting opened with a short business session at 7:30, and was followed by an open session at 8 o'clock.

During the business session the following were nominated to the various offices, to be voted upon at the January meeting: president, Miss Ida Johnson; vice president, Misses Mary Devine, Jessie Caldwell and Ora Jilgman; secretary, Misses Alice Byrne and Gertrude Lamb; treasurer, Miss Nettie Hall.

William Rossiter delivered a short, but interesting and instructive talk on "Education in Thrift." In the course of his discussion Mr. Rossiter pointed out that thrift not only dealt with the saving of money, but was concerned with the proper use and conservation of talents, energies, efforts, food, health and other material things. "Thrift persons are constructive," said Mr. Rossiter, "they not only build up from waste, but they build up their own characters at the same time."

Mrs. J. C. Dixon gave an inspiring talk on the subject of the "Influence of Higher Education on the Home," in which she contrasted the home life of the average person of ordinary education with that of those who have been more fortunate in the matter of education.

The members of the club were entertained by the combined boys' and girls' glee clubs of the high school, and with instrumental and vocal solos by local musicians.

ADOLPH WINNINGER COMPANY OPENS AN ENGAGEMENT HERE

The Adolph Winninger company opened its engagement at the La Crosse theater Tuesday night with "The Love Bandit" by Norman Houston and a capacity house enjoyed the play immensely, judging from the applause and the reception accorded the company.

"The Love Bandit" tells a story of a rough and self-made business man, who rises from a lumberjack to president of a lumber company. He falls in love with an aristocratic girl, who is his secretary not by choice but by fallen fortunes. The girl refuses to have anything to do with him until her brother who is also employed by the Blazes Lumber company, steals from the firm to play the races. He is caught in the act and to save her brother from jail the secretary agrees to marry this self-made business man. It is then that the plot thickens for the girl does not love her husband and he feels that he is too uncouth to win her love and departs for the lumber camps of the Maine woods while she goes to California.

It is in the last act that all ends happily and the wife visits her husband in the north woods to find that love is stronger than breeding. Many fine characters are seen in the play and the work of the cast was excellent. Adolph Winninger was very convincing in the role of Jim Blazes, the self-made man and acted the part to the liking of everyone. Rosalind Mahan, the leading woman, contributed a fine bit as the snobbish secretary. Possessed of splendid diction, Miss Mahan's even, measured tones filled the role naturally and effectively. She is beautiful and makes a rich appearance and shows ability at emotional acting. For her work in the part of French Annie, Helen Forrest Russell scored heavily. She was warmly applauded by the audience and her work deserved it. Miss Russell's interpretation of the part was splendid. Hugh Adams was an amusing Frepphump and Wm. McInroe a convincing heavy. Marion Ashley won favor and lots of laughs in the

Christmas Fur Sale

At Less than January Sale Prices!

In many instances, these FUR COAT VALUES are LESS than manufacturers cost.

BECAUSE of the prolonged mild weather this fall, furs did not move as quickly as they did in other seasons, and consequently our Fur Coat stock is abnormally large for this time of the year. In order to reduce our fur stock to proper levels, we have made the most drastic reductions on Fur Coats ever attempted in our history. It will pay well for every fur coat shopper to visit here and compare our fur offerings, for here you will find—breadth of choice—unequivocal quality—and unmistakably low prices. It is an event in which economy is uppermost.

BROWNS HOPEFUL OF PENNANT WIN IN 1923 SEASON

Confident After Showing Made Last Year When they Finished Second

FIFTEEN NEW PLAYERS PURCHASED THIS YEAR

Recall Ten Men Who Have Been "Farmed Out"

ST. LOUIS.—By The Associated Press.—Confident as a result of their showing in 1922, when they finished in second place only one game behind the champion New York Yankees, the St. Louis Browns have high hopes of winning the American League championship next year.

Not Disheartened.—Disappointed but not disheartened over failure to capture the flag after a strenuously close struggle with the Yankees, Phil Ball, owner of the Browns, has just a sum estimated at between $100,000 and $150,000 in new players to strengthen his team for next year's campaign.

Fifteen new players have been purchased and ten have been recalled from leased teams, to which they were "farmed out" so that when Leo Fohl, general manager, assembles his squad for spring training he will find an unusually large number on hand.

The pitching staff, third base and outfield, which were considered the weak positions and probably had much to do in the local Americans' inability to finish first last season, are to receive the major portion of Manager Fohl's attention on the spring training trip.

CASSINA, WILD TEA OF EAST, DECLARED TO BE DRINKABLE

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Cassina beverage may rank with tea and coffee as a beverage in American homes and a new industry, which would benefit the south particularly seems a prospect. W. G. Campbell, acting chief of the department of agriculture bureau of chemistry, reported Wednesday to the secretary of agriculture some facts on Cassina which he says makes an excellent beverage.

JOHNNY MEYERS BEATS KILONIS IN TWO FALLS

CHICAGO, Ill.—Johnny Meyers, middleweight wrestling champion, Wednesday held a finer grasp on his title after a demonstration Tuesday night of his new "stopper" hold, by which he defeated John Kilonis of Norfolk, Va., in two out of three falls.

JUDGE MEANT WHAT HE SAID, FOND DU LAC YOUTH FINDS

FOND DU LAC, Wis.—Maybe Leo Fohl, 16 years old, thought Municipal Judge Henry M. Follenz was joking when he told him to remain at home every night for a year and cut out cigars and then paraded him to his father. Either he failed to take the judge seriously or the force of the mild dishes of the last week were too much for Leo, for his father reported to Judge Follenz that Leo had disappeared for a night and a day. Now the youth is at the Waukesha Industrial home, to stay until he is 18 years old.

KANGAROOS TIED BY SEALS TUESDAY SEALS COP THREE

The Seals went into a tie with the Kangaroos in the Elks' bowling league Tuesday night, by winning three games from the Kangaroos, while the Kangaroos were only able to best the Seals in two out of three. The Kangaroos have held the lead virtually all season.

The Bulls stuck to second place by winning two from the Elephants and the Bears. Third, went down two games at the hands of the Buffaloes. Miller's average of 215 aided the Bulls in winning three games from the Bears. Miller pulled a quarter of the honors in the "Best Bowlers" column with high three game.

The Tigers, Beavers and Gophers, won two out of three from the Wolves, Rabbits and Badgers.

MAJOR GRIFFITH HOPES TO HOLD NATIONAL GAMES

Big Ten Faculty Committee Recommend that Schools Remain Out of Games

CHICAGO, Ill.—John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics in the western conference, with A. A. Slagg of Chicago and T. E. Jones of Wisconsin compose the National College A. A. committee, still has hopes the national collegiate track and field games will be held in June, despite the action of the faculty committee of the Big Ten last Saturday recommending that western conference teams and athletes refrain from taking part in the games.

The committee did not make the resolution a hard and fast rule, with the result there is a chance for the matter to be reconsidered, and this is what the committee is hoping for.

Committee Poorly Advised.—According to an official in close touch with the situation, the national meet was placed in the wrong light to the faculty committee by the board of managers, composed of alumni representatives of the Big Ten colleges. In fact, it is known that two faculty men are seeking an opportunity to reconsider their action.

Action of the faculty committee must be referred back to the faculties of the ten institutions. To become a hard and fast rule, it must then be passed by a majority vote of the faculty committee of the Big Ten. In the meantime, Griffith, Jones and Slagg undoubtedly will try to make some of the faculties see the real good in an event which bids fair to develop into America's college Olympic games.

PADDOCK TURNS DOWN TRIP OFFER TO NEW ZEALAND

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—Charles W. Paddock, has declined an invitation to accompany Jack Moreham, University of California track and field athlete, and George Krogness, middle distance runner, to New Zealand for track and field work. Moreham and Krogness will leave for New Zealand December 8 and plan to remain on the island for an indefinite period. Paddock announced the long trip would interfere with his return to studies at University of Southern California.

Your Winter Trip

to California will be surprisingly more enjoyable and far more satisfactory if your hotel or bungalow accommodations are arranged for well in advance and proper consideration is given to the selection of your route to take you there. Naturally, you want to see the most of the best scenery in America en route. The logical route is the Burlington (in connection with the Denver & Rio Grande Western and Western Pacific), because it takes you right through Denver, the Pike's Peak region, Royal Gorge, scenic Colorado, Salt Lake City and the Grand Canyon of the Feather River in the beautiful Sierra Nevada range. Then, if you return by way of the great Pacific Northwest (Yellowstone or Glacier Park line), Minneapolis-St. Paul and the Burlington's Mississippi River Scenic Line, you put a ring around the Golden West—the most wonderful trip in America. Rail rates are the same via all Western lines. Therefore, you have something to gain and nothing to lose by investigating before completing your plans. Let me tell you more about the Burlington's more-travel-comfort-at-the-same-cost service.

DESCHAMPES SAYS SIKI'S STATEMENT IS "INFAMOUS LIE"

Expected Georges to Get Kayo in First Round of Battle With Siki

PARIS.—"It is an infamous lie," Francois Deschamps, manager of Georges Carpentier said on Tuesday when shown the declaration by Battling Siki that his championship match with Carpentier was to have been a frameup.

"I was sure Carpentier would knock this negro out in the first round," Deschamps continued. "Do you suppose I would let this clumsy fighter stay four rounds with my champion?"

"Despity Diagne is making electrical propaganda of this stuff, it will go big at the next election with his Senegalese electors, but I may not go big in the courts when the deputy is asked to prove his charges."

"I defy Diagne to show the slightest proof connecting me with this alleged frameup. You have noticed he was very careful not to mention my name in that connection. I believe Diagne's good faith has been cheated by this negro."

The declaration that Battling Siki is "a much greater liar than Carpentier was a fighter and that no one can take away his life as champion heavyweight liar of the world," was the only comment which M. Heliors, manager of the Senegalese made to newspaper correspondents.

M. Heliors added that he would defend himself to the limit and defied M. Diagne, the Senegalese deputy, to produce any proof of the alleged frameup beyond the unsupported word of Siki.

Was It the Press Or "Good" Judgment of Marinette That Arranged Saturday's Game?

(From the Marinette Eagle-Star) Late Tuesday afternoon over the telephone Marinette High completed arrangements for the state title game with Sheboygan at Green Bay.

Superior's offer was rejected because Superior has played only one or two Wisconsin teams, playing most of her games with Duluth and other Minnesota teams. Sheboygan has as good a claim to state honors as any of the other claimants and with Superior trying to dictate the place for the game, it was decided to play Sheboygan at Green Bay next Saturday.

(From the Superior Evening Telegram) Sheboygan has been picked to play Marinette for state championship high school football honors, according to a message received at Superior Central high school from Marinette Tuesday morning.

The message, which came from E. E. Merbach, principal of the Marinette high school, reads as follows: "Papers have selected Sheboygan to meet us at Green Bay Saturday. Their Wisconsin record better than yours. You erred in not tracing your record and willingness to play before. Your wire of Saturday not considered as we were allowing selection of opponent to be made by disinterested parties."

The "papers" are believed to be at Milwaukee and Green Bay. Several weeks ago Marinette announced that they would play a team selected by "Milwaukee and Green Bay newspapers." The part of the message referring to "tracing record" is a puzzle to the local high school authorities.

(By the Associated Press) GREEN BAY, Wis.—At a meeting of officials of Sheboygan and Marinette high schools with a representative of the Green Bay Press-Gazette here Tuesday afternoon, plans were completed for the Sheboygan-Marquette "championship game," which will be played in Green Bay next Saturday afternoon.

Officials chosen by the conferees are as follows: Duvy, Wisconsin, referee; Wyman, Oshkosh, umpire, and Haffey, Milwaukee, head linesman. The game is scheduled to start at 1:45 p. m.

(By the La Crosse Tribune and Leader-Press) Marinette is going to play Sheboygan for the "state title." Superior was counted out because she "has played only one or two Wisconsin teams, playing most of her games with Duluth and other Minnesota teams," says the Marinette Eagle-Star. Marinette says Superior is trying to tell them what to do. "We just won't play now, if you're going to go that way." And in the same breath Marinette is hiding behind the crosses of the Press in taking on Sheboygan.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK—The struggle for control between opposing speculative forces imparted a decidedly irregular trend of prices at the opening of Wednesday's stock market. The main tendency being downward. Rails and oils were in rather free supply and there was sporadic selling of food and motor accessory shares. The only group to show strength was the copper shares. Losses of a point or more were registered in the early dealings by New York Central, Chicago and Northwestern, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, and Norfolk and Western. Oils offered better resistance, California dropping a point and the others fractionally. Ruminations Typewriter climbed three points and the first and second preferred each established new prices of two and two and one-half points respectively. Utah Copper improved 1 1/2 and Cerro de Pasco and Kennecott fractionally. Foreign exchanges were firm.

Early weakness of the rails caused a general sell-off throughout the list. The speculative uncertainty regarding the continuance of the $7.00 dividend rate for Great Northern preferred was still in the air. There was an excuse for assaults elsewhere, representative shares lacking sufficient support to withstand the pressure. The quality of the buying power at the lower levels, however, resulted in some short covering which turned the course of prices upward and toward noon. Great Northern preferred conceding its early losses and started to higher ground. Several shares displayed moderate gains. American Can, Standard of New Jersey and People's Gas up 1 1/2 points. Call money opened at per cent.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO, Ill.—Largely in response to lower quotations at Liverpool, the wheat market showed a moderate setback in price Wednesday during early dealings. An apparent bull in export demand, together with something of a let-up in the domestic flour trade, also as a bearish factor. Initial prices which varied from unchanged to 1c lower, May 2 1/2 and July 2 1/2, to 2 1/2, were followed by a slight rally and then by a decline all around.

Subsequently a bill to create a farm credits department had been introduced in both houses of congress, led to a sudden upturn in wheat prices. The market closed steady, 2 1/2 to 1 1/2 net higher, May 2 1/2 and July 2 1/2.

Subsequently the market rallied with many traders looking for bullish developments in regard to farm legislation and plans for government aid in financing food exports. A closing of the price gains which scored, however, came after definite word was received that the clause was strong, 2 1/2 to 1 1/2 net higher, May 2 1/2 and July 2 1/2.

Seventies of rural offerings to arrive on grain markets in the morning. The price of a like advance May 2 1/2 to 1 1/2 net higher, May 2 1/2 and July 2 1/2.

EXPECT SEASON'S KILLING OF DEER TO TOTAL 5,000

Two Counties Adopt Resolutions
Asking Closed Season on Deer

MADISON, Wis.—Between 2,000 and 3,000 hunters have reported to the state conservation commission that they got their one buck deer allowed by Wisconsin law in the ten day season last month. Additional reports are expected to indicate that the season's total bag was more than 3,000.

Hunters are not required by law to report their kills of deer, but the commission issues questionnaires with each license, asking for data on each hunter's activities.

Questionnaires sent to the wardens of the state revealed that the wardens are almost unanimously in favor of the one buck law.

The county boards of Forest and Taylor counties have adopted resolutions asking that there be no open season for deer in their counties. Two fatalities during the recent deer season in Taylor county was given as the reason for the Taylor county board's action.

GREEN BAY COAL MEN EXONERATED OF DISCRIMINATION

GREEN BAY, Wis.—Paul H. Presentin, secretary of the Wisconsin Fuel commission, upon the conclusion of his investigation into charges made by villages surrounding Green Bay, that local coal dock operators were guilty of discriminating against them in favor of Green Bay residents, expressed his belief that the situation here was not intentional and that no prosecutions would be made. All coal dealers agreed, however, not to deliver more than a ton of hard coal at one time to any customer until the present stringency has passed.

BARBERS WALK OUT; MARSHFIELD'S SHAGGY

MARSHFIELD, Wis.—Hair-cuts, shaves and shampoos in Marshfield are unavailable as a result of a general walkout Tuesday of employees of eight Marshfield barber shops, who protested against the decrease in "over money," or money allowed employees over their regular salary. At a meeting Tuesday, the local shop proprietors decided to decrease the percentage allowed their employees from sixty to fifty per cent. Eight shops in this city are affected by the walkout.
